I'm secretly writing this days before Further Confusion 2017. Shh~!

Looking back at this album from a technical perspective, I'm hyper enjoying the colour rendition. A particular pastel tone across the event. Scary thinking this is the last major event with the Nikon D3s before it's succeeded and the learning starts again.

Thanks for everyones support! The reception of the Further Confusion 2016 photo stream is inspiring.

And, onward to 2017's event just days away!
